In para 11 it was Ordered that "the Question may be taken up again in the last week of Oct-1928" As this subject has not been disposed of till now, it may perhaps be considered now and final orders passed. Please see Rule 65 of the Indian Explosives Rules (a copy of which is herewith put up for reference). According to the proviso this rule the local authorities can collect fees direct which have been made over to them. The corresponding rule under the Mysore Explosives Rules is rule 54 According to this rule all applications for licenses or renewals of licenses have to be made on impressed stamps of value equal to the amount of fee leviable. It is evident that "impressed stamps" that are in force under the law in the State have to be used.

16 Under Section 4 (3) (a) & (b) of the Mysore Explosives Regulation, Govt are empowered to make rules for appointing licensing authorities and fixing fees for licenses (including import licenses). According to Serial 1, Schedule I of Rules 38 & 38A of the Mysore Explosives

NOTE—Contn. Sheet.

Rules the Hon'ble the Resident in Mysore is empowered to grant import licenses under the rules in force in the State and the fee fixed therefor is Rs 5/-. As import licenses are issued in accordance with the provisions of the Mysore law to the persons residing in Mysore State on applications have to be made on Mysore stamp papers, and the income realised thereby belongs to Govt. (Usually the Agent, Nobel's Explosives Ltd, Bangalore uses the Mysore stamp paper)

17. According to the Govt of India Rules applications for licenses to import explosives into British India by land or sea are made on British stamp paper. In the same manner, Mysore stamp has to be used for applications for licenses to import explosives into the Mysore State.

(*) Schedule II Licenses Rule 49

18 Reg is invited to Articles 3 (a) (c), (b) (b) & 17 of the Mysore Stamp Regulations. All instruments chargeable with duty & executed by any persons in Mysore also and relate to any property situated or to any matter or things done or to be done in Mysore & is received in Mysore, should be stamped. Although licenses are not mentioned in the Stamp Regulation, articles 3 & 17 (g) the said Regulations are applicable to explosives licenses in question. Persons residing in Mysore make applications after paying the fees (fixed by Govt) to Dt. Magistrate concerned who forward them to the Residency with their certificates and licenses, the explosives are received & used in the State.

It so it seems to be clear from the above facts that Mysore stamp alone has to be used for applications for licenses to import explosives into Mysore. The Asst Sec, Law, may be consulted in the matter. This question may perhaps be discussed with the Chief Inspector of Mines & Explosives when he comes over here on 5/9/36 to meet the member for orders.

not under enactments relating to explosives - whether Br Indian or Mysore, but under R. 12 of the Rules under the Indian Arms ~~Act~~ Act. In S 4 of the Indian Arms Act, the term "ammunition" is defined in such a way as to cover every kind of explosive within its comprehensive scope. Again, the Resident is treating every case of import of explosives as Mysore as a case of export from Br India. Under S 6 of the Indian Arms Act no person can export ~~explosives~~ ammunition out of Br India except under a licence granted in Form VI of the Rules. Since the licensing authority is the Resident and since the licence is issued under a Br Indian enactment it seems clear that the application must be on a Br Indian stamp paper.

Why the Resident outside the jurisdiction was appointed the licensing authority for the importation of explosives into the State under the Mysore Explosives Rules, & under what Regulation & rules are not known. The Mysore State seems to be outside the local limits of the authority of the Resident (the licensing Officer). What is why he issues export licences under the Indian law & not import licences under the Mysore law. When explosives are imported into the place or places in the State from British India, the District authority in whose jurisdiction such place or places is situated may have to issue import permits or prohibit the importation (as the case may be) under Sections 3 & 4 of the Mysore Regulations respectively.

The question that will naturally have to be put is— under what authority a Subject of the State who is licensed within the State jurisdiction, can deal with the articles so licensed in British India? Such licenses are generally granted by the Dist Magte. or the Commissioner of Police of the Dist in British India from which the articles are transported or exported. But in order to facilitate the State Subjects to obtain licenses for the purpose with a comparative ease, the British Resident is nominated by the Govt of India under their Acts & Rules. For our Subjects importing or possessing arms, ammunition etc within the State jurisdiction they need licenses and when they want to get any such articles outside from outside the State they are required to show that they are entitled to possess the articles in the State and for their possessing, or transporting or exporting in or from British India a license from the British Indian Govt authorities is required.

This Branch cannot possibly answer the point raised by the Govt Advocate, why the footnote at page 37 of the Explosives rules happens to be there. Under the Indian Explosives Rules there does not appear to be any form for export of Explosives from British India similar to form VI of the Indian Arms Rules (Rule 17) and the point has been fully noted upon by the Under Secy, Dept Sr., in para 3.

56 This precise question was raised and decided in December 1927, vide page 18-9 File (Geological) 118-26 of 26-27. Only giving effect to the decision was postponed. I respectfully agree with that view because the license is issued under the Regulation in force in the State, and the Hon'ble the British Resident is not amenable to the jurisdiction of the State where the Explosives Regulation is in force, and I wanted to know how such a person happened to be designated as the authority, under the Regulation. None of the papers including the File No. 69-25 (15) of 1915-16 Geological, page 16, which shows how the relevant rule was framed throw much light on the matter. The explanation may perhaps lie in the attempt attempt to justify the practice in vogue of the Hon'ble the Resident issuing the license which he does in virtue of his capacity as representative of the Governor-General-in-Council whose previous permission is necessary to "permit to be imported arms, ammunition ....." under which category the explosives may also come. (vide Clause 7 of the Treaty.) It is a matter for consideration of the Government whether in the present circumstances where issues of very great importance are the subject matter of delicate negotiations, it is worth while raising the question now, which has been lying dormant for nearly a decade especially because the revenue in the shape of stamps may not be much.

to have been taken - Subsequently to ~~me~~ amend the Schedule in the manner proposed or to prescribe the form in which the Resident shd issue the import licences. The idea then was, to issue these import licences free of all charge. The reasons for this decision are contained in paras 71, 72, 73 and 76 of the Notes in H.C.C. file No 1-28 referred to already. They are

(1) That by requiring the importer to pay a fee (Rs 10/-) for the import licence we would make our blasting material much more expensive than it is; and

(2) Since there is no import duty (ie licence fee) in the C.P. & Berar there would be extensive smuggling into the State.

66. Both these reasons have lost none of their force with the lapse of years. They hold good with equal force in the conditions prevailing now. In the circumstances

Accordingly will now be taken to amend the Rules on the lines suggested in the letter to the Residency. This would incidentally solve the problem raised by the Dt Magistrate Mysore in his letter dt 6.3.37 in the linked file. Pending final orders on his reference, he and other Dt. Magistrates may be informed that the fee of Rs 10/- prescribed under the amended Rules need not be received for the licenses in addition to the fee levied under the Indian Arms Act.

2) In their later letter dt 16.3.37 the Residency state that with a view to safeguard the revenues of the Mysore Assigned Areas it has been decided to collect the fee (Rs 5/-) prescribed for export permits under the Indian Arms Act, in cash (and not also in the Indian Stamps as hitherto). It is necessary that this decision should be immediately communicated to all the Dt Magistrates

The Indian Explosive Rules do not provide for any export license. But the Indian Arms Act (section 6) and the Rules framed thereunder provide for an export license in respect of arms, ammunition, or military stores. The term 'explosives' comes under 'ammunition' & 'military stores' as defined in Section 4 of the Indian Arms Act. Under our Import Law (Vide Section 4 of the Explosives Regulation and Rule 11 of the Explosives Rules) an import license is necessary for import of any explosive.

To Under the authority of Rule 17(1) of the Indian Arms Rules read with Schedule VI (11) & (2) of the said Rules, The Hon. the British Resident issues a license to export explosives from British India into the Mysore

WD 0417—GPB—30,000—8-9-36

State. Such a license is issued in Form VI of Schedule VIII and a fee of Rs 5/- is levied as provided therein. This export license issued under the British Indian Arms Rules, must necessarily be distinct from the import license contemplated under Rule 11 of our Explosives Rules. Strictly speaking every "person" who wishes to import explosives into Mysore should have two licenses - one, an export license under the British Indian Arms Rules, and the other, an import license under the Mysore Explosives Rules. Item 1 of Schedule I to the Mysore Explosives Rules prescribes the Hon. the British Resident as the authority empowered to grant an import license contemplated under Rule 11. It thus follows that both the export license and the import license have to be obtained from the British Resident but the practice at present seems to be that no import license, as such, is ~~does not~~ being obtained by the importers and as observed above, the only license obtained Cytacin is an export license under the Indian Arms Rules. This anomaly was noticed in Geol: File 1-28 (placed below) and the whole question was carefully and exhaustively discussed and it was proposed that in order to make the position clear and to give due effect to our Rules, the District Magistrate should be constituted the authority, (instead of the Hon. the British Resident) for issuing import licenses and that Item 1 of Schedule I should be amended accordingly. The Hon'ble the British Resident was also consulted in the matter; and the letter dated 25.7.30 received from the Residency to the effect that there was no objection to the amendment of Item 1 of Schedule I as proposed by this Government.

71. In view of the fact that our importers will have to pay Rs 5/- on the export license obtained from the Resident, and that a levy of another Rs 5/- on the import license would work as a hardship (particularly for the reason that such a levy would either make the blasting materials more costly or otherwise encourage smuggling, there being no import license in C & M States) it was also decided on that occasion that our import licenses should be free of all charges.

72 It was also ordered that that early action should be taken for an enquiry into Rules, but unfortunately, no further action in the matter seems to have been taken since.

73 I think it therefore, necessary, that early action should be taken to amend the Schedule I, on

SIR,

I am directed to refer to letter from this Residency No.9142/1-1928, dated the 27th September 1928 (copy enclosed for ready reference) and to say that it has been noticed of late that British India and Mysore State Stamps purchased at places other than at the Resident's Treasury, Bangalore, are tendered in payment of licence fees presumably because it is not convenient to obtain stamps from the Hon'ble the Resident's Treasury.

2. In order to safeguard the revenues of the Mysore Assigned Tract, it has been decided that in future the fee for British India arms licences, Export licences, etc. should be paid in cash by Money Order or in a registered cover. I am accordingly to request that if there be no objection, this decision may kindly be made known as widely as possible so that persons in the Mysore State who intend applying to this Residency for import and other licences will not be put to any inconvenience.

I am directed to return the marginally noted applications for export licenses under the Indian Arms Rules, 1924, received in this office through the District Magistrate, Kadu District, and to state that the fee in each case has been tendered in the form of Mysore Government stamp purchased at Treasuries in the Mysore State.
